The story follows a little engine that is tasked with pulling a long train over a mountain. The engine is small and weak, and the mountain is steep and treacherous. But the engine keeps chugging along, repeating the mantra "I think I can, I think I can." And in the end, the little engine succeeds in pulling the train over the mountain.

This story is a powerful reminder that anything is possible if we believe in ourselves. No matter how small or weak we may feel, we can achieve great things if we set our minds to it. "He Can Who Thinks He Can" is a book that will inspire children to dream big and to never give up on their dreams.

The Importance of Self-Belief

Self-belief is essential for success in all areas of life. When we believe in ourselves, we are more likely to take risks, try new things, and persevere in the face of challenges. Self-belief gives us the confidence to overcome obstacles and achieve our goals.

"He Can Who Thinks He Can" teaches children the importance of self-belief from a young age. The little engine in the story is a great example of perseverance and self-belief. Even when faced with a seemingly impossible task, the engine never gives up. It keeps chugging along, repeating the mantra "I think I can, I think I can." And in the end, the little engine succeeds.

This story teaches children that they can achieve anything they set their minds to. No matter how small or weak they may feel, they can accomplish great things if they believe in themselves.

The Power of Perseverance

Perseverance is another essential quality for success. When we persevere, we never give up, even when faced with setbacks or challenges. We keep working hard and moving forward, no matter what. Perseverance is what allows us to achieve our goals and dreams.

"He Can Who Thinks He Can" teaches children the importance of perseverance through the story of the little engine. The little engine faces many challenges in its journey to pull the train over the mountain. But it never gives up. It keeps chugging along, repeating the mantra "I think I can, I think I can." And in the end, the little engine succeeds.

This story teaches children that they can overcome any obstacle if they never give up. No matter how hard things may seem, they should keep working hard and moving forward. With perseverance, they can achieve anything they set their minds to.
